Hart hit a high bounder in front of the plate, and as the ball settled in Wilson's mitt the bataman did not make an attempt to run to the base. Wilson could have touched him, as Hart stood a few feet away. But the New York catcher concluded to let Bill Clark have the put out. Therefore he threw the ball in the direction of the big first baseman, Hart still standing like a statue near the plate. The ball went four feet over Clark's bead, and Hart then started for the bag, which he reached before the ball sould be recovered. Voter, Buddhn, Den de Ore, and Ogden Beaten in Fast Time-Demagogue Takes the Bed-ford-Hamburg Disposes of Previous-Tom Cromwell, Caldren, and Cleophus Also Win.

A. H. & D. H. Morris's chestnut colt, The Friar, by Friar's Balsam, dam Lizzie Baker, by Longfellow, is the newest three-year-old champion. He won it by defeating Voter, Buddha, Don de Ore, and Ogden for the $5,000 Broadway Stakes at Sheepshead yesterday afternoon. The race was at one mile and a sixteenth, and the new scale of weights governed. With 126 pounds in the saddle The Friar negotiated the distance in 1:4919, and Voter was at his shoulder as the wire was passed, Buddha and Don de Oro being beaten probably a length by the Keene representative; in fact, the field made what might be called a "bunch" finish. But The Friar had something in reserve, and he must on form be considered the best three-year-old scen hereabouts so far this spring. The other stake on the card, the Bedford, for two-year-olds, went to Hayman & Frank's useful colt, Demagogue, by Magnetizer, out of Decoy, who beat a big field in creditable time.

Those who patronized the meeting at Washington returned to New York full of Buddha's speed and general race-horse qualities, and the irst appearance of the colt at Morris Park was the signal for a plunge. This, too, in spite of the fact that the colt had only recovered from a severe cold. The track was heavy and Buddha was beaten. The big son of The Bard ran subsequently, but always on a heavy track, and his dmirers consoled themselves by saying: "Wait till he hits a dry track." The course for yesterday's prize was first-class, and while the unbeaten Voter was favorite at 4 to 5, a fortune went on Buddha at 5 and Wyndham Walden, who trains both The Friar and Buddha, said that the latter would win, and, it is understood, wagered a large sum of his own money on the big bay colt. This caused The Friar to go up to 8 and 10 to 1. Don de Oro was 5 to 1, and Ogden, the other starter. was held at 10 to 1. All looked well save Orden and handled that member very gingerly. The talent had figured that Voter and The Friar would go to the front, and they were not disappointed, this pair coming to the stand head and head, with the others bunched. On the first turn Voter showed an inclination, and Littlefield took The Friar back, and gave the favorite the track. Buddha wanted to race up to Voter, but Dogrett took a pull on the Baltimore-owned three-year-old. This left Voter in command of affairs, the balance of the field running in close order. Just after peasing the half-mile ground The Friar shot up to Voter so easily that it was plain he could go to the front whenever called upon. This put Buddha in a pocket, as Don do Oro and Ogden were head-and-head with him, and there was no room to squeeze through between the leaders. Gradually The Friar forged to the front with Littlefield keeping a firm hold of the chest-nut colt's head, and at the head of the stretch Sloan was urging Voter with hand and heel. When Littlefield called upon The Friar the race was quickly over, and the bulk of the interest was centred in the struggle for the place. Ruddha and Don de Oro menaced Voter, but could not quite get up to him. Nearing the finish, Littlefield took matters easy with The Friar, and this enabled Sloan to get Voter up to the winner's shoulder as the wire was passed. Buddha on the outside lapped Voter to the saddle, and Ion de Oro was at Budd ha's throatlatch.

It was a very pretty race throughout, and disappointed, this pair coming to the stand the saddle, and rook to ore was as that throatlatch.

It was a very pretty race throughout, and there were cheers for the winner. The race was run true to the form of 1896, for The Friar in the autumn was unquestionably a better three-year-old at even weights than any of the coits he vanquished yesterday, barring possibly Ogden, whose form last year was much better than anything he has shown this season. The last mile from stand to stand was timed unofficially in 1:424, and the opinion was general that it was the best three-year-old race of the year. ficially in 1:424, and the opinion was general that it was the best three-year-old race of the year.

Blueaway was the favorite for the Bedford Stakes for two-year-olds, but Demagogue, thanks to Penn's quickness at the start, rushed to the front at the outset and won all the way. It took the favorite's best efforts to head Lady Ashley at the wire for second money. Central Trust, from where he got off, ran well. Abundant, a very crary filly was responsible for a long delay at the post.

Cleophus, the favorite for the dash at six furiongs, with which the day's sport began, lod almost all the way, and beat Mistral, a 15 to 1 chance, in a hard drive. Cesarion was third, and will do to watch, as he made up a lot of ground. The nervous Elkins was an even-money favorite for the dash for maiden three-year-olds, with William Astor Chambers's black colt Caldron in the stretch, the son of Calvades winning cleverly in the good time of 1:434. Falernian was third. F. D. Beard's St. Nicholas, by St. Hilaise, out of Thora, which cost $12,000 as a yearling, made his first appearance. He was ridden by the appendice boy. Collins, and, getting off slowly, was never prominent. Previous, on the atrength of his victory in the great American Stakes, was favorite for the fifth event at five furions over Hamburg, Sly Fox, and other good ones. Hamburg, Sly Fox, and other good ones. Hamburg beat Previous a few days before the latter won the Great American, and he did it again cleverly yesterday, merely galloping the distance in 1:024. Previous was second, and Colo-ter won the Great American, and he did it again cleverly yesterday, merely galloring the distance in 1:024. Previous was second, and Colonial Dame third. Sly Fox made up much ground, but Doggett pulled up when he saw that he could get no part of the money.

Tom Cromwell was the choice of the last race of the day, a selling affair at one mile and a sixteenth. Simuss had to whip and ride the four-year-old for half a mile in order to win by half a length from the three-year-old Domitor. Another three-year-old, the filly Trayant, was third. Bun Up ran well for seven furlongs and then subsided. third. Sun Up ran well for seven furiongs and then subsided.
Clifford and Dutch Skater—are now mentioned as certain starters for the Suburban Handicap on Tuesday next. Clifford moved a mile rester-day morning in 1:45 at Sheepshead Bay. NEW RULES FOR GOLFERS.

REPORT OF THE SPECIAL COMMIT-

TEE OF THE U. S. G. A. The Penalty for Playing Outside of the Teeing Limit.—No Buling is Made Regarding the Style or Sizes of Golf Stichs—"Col. Hogey" Receives an Official Status—Other Points.

C. B. Macdonald and Laurence Curtis, the committee appointed by the Executive Commit-tee of the United States Golf Association on July 18, 1896, to interpret the rules of golf, have made public their report, which has been accepted by the U. S. G. A.

"No change has been made in the words of the rules as they stand in the code of the Royal and Ancient Golf Club of St. Andrew's, Scotland, as revised in 1891, but they have appended whenever necessary the rulings of the U.S.G. A., based upon the results of many decisions of committees or experts, or upon customs which have obtained in the best clubs in Scotland and England," is the committee's preamble.

The context shows that special interpretations have been necessary on all but seven of the match and five of the rules for medal play. The points which have not been covered by the committee, in its opinion, should properly be made the subject of local rules. One such point now touched on is the providing of stringent rules for keeping scores in competitions.

In the interpretation of rule 2 "Col. Bogey" receives an official status as "an imaginary opponent against whose arbitrary score each player plays by holes; otherwise bogey competi-tions are governed by medal play rules, except that a player loses a hole:

"When the ball is struck twice or is stopped by the player or his caddle or clubs;
"When a ball is lost;
"When a ball is not played wherever it lies except as provided for in rules 17 and 21."

as provided for in rules 17 and 21."

The latter clause refers to the new interpretation on rule 29, which is that a ball can no longer be lifted out of a difficulty of any description and teed behind the same, under a penalty of two strokes, in match play, but the former custom still holds good at medal play. Rule 17 refers to casual hazards, and rule 21 to a ball in water. These stand as of old, but hereafter when a ball lies in casual water on the putting green it may be lifted without penalty and replaced by hand to one side, but not nearer the hole. Also a ball in water in a hazard may be lifted and dropped behind the water or hazard, under penalty of one stroke.

The gist of the more important interpretations may be briefly summarized in this order, as they follow each rule:

follow each rule:

Bule 3. The penalty for playing outside the teeing limit shall be: in match play the ball may be recalled, in medal play it must be recalled. No stroke is counted for the misplay.

Rule 4. The penalty is loss of the hole at match play, disqualification at medal play. No ruling is made regarding the style or sizes of golf atteks.

Rule 9. At medal play astroke may not be recalled should the wrong side play first.

Rule 11. Ice, snow, or hall within a club length of the ball through the green may be removed, but on the patting green only "by brushing slightly with the hand only across the put and not along it."

Rule 14. Hereafter when a ball lies on turf in a hazard or surrounded by a hazard, it shall be considered as being on the fair green and the club may be soled.

Rule 15. Long grass and casual weter on the fair green are not hazards. Woods are hazards.

Rule 15. Long grass and casual water on the fair green are not hazards. Woods are hazards.

Rule 19. The opponent has the right to have a ball dropped again if he thinks it has not been dropped in strict accordance with the rule. In medal play he is obliged to have it dropped again.

Bule 23. If the player's ball strike the other competitor or his caddle or clubs it has "rub of the green," and the ball shall be played from where it lies.

Rule 23. A player who has lost his ball may, before giving up the hole, ask his opponent to show his (the opponent's) ball. When both balls are lost it is a halved hole, irrespective of the number of strokes either side may have played.

Rule 33. In medal play, to put before the flag has been taken out of the hole is a disqualification.

Rule 36. When a player's ball knocks in the opponent's ball, in match play it counts as holed out on the previous stroke, in medal play it must be replaced.

The result of the new sobedule will be to simplify the working rules of the game. The special rule is made that hereafter a player who is not satisfied with the ruling of the Greens Committee on a disputed point may file a protest with the Executive Committee of the U.S. G. A.

GOLF UP THE HUDSON.

Women Make the Opening Rounds in a Three-Day Handicap at Ardeley. A three-day handican medal play competition for the women members began yesterday at the Ardsley Club links. The prize is a silver cup presented by Mrs. Granbury, to be awarded to he player making the best aggregate score. It is the first competition under such conditions ever held in the Metropolitan district. First place in yesterday's play was won by Mrs. Van Buren with the net total of fifty-nine.

In the Ardsley women's championship last week the players had to make the rounds in a pelting rain, but this time they had sunshine and pleasant weather. Miss Brooks and Mrs. Eldridge, who had made the best scores on the stormy day, were partners again. Miss Brooks holds the record for the links, at fifty-seven, and was the only scratch contestant. She knew before starting out that fifty-nine net was the low score, and but for wild approach plays on the seventh and minth holes, Miss Brooks might have beaten it.

Mrs. Eldridge excels on the short game. She made the chasm hole in four, and, only for being trapped on the crag hole by a wild brassey shot, which cost thirteen, her net score would possibly have equalied the leader's total. Mrs. Keech and Miss Anna Archbold, both graceful and improving players, were tied with 62 net for second place. Mrs. Terry made the chasm hole in four, but had poor luck on the three long holes. Mrs. Van Buren played her poorest for the chasm hole, taking eight to make it. Otherwise she showed steady golfing. Miss Low's card was made under difficulties. She played the bye and was the last off. A rain squall swept over the links while she was out, the bigh wind spoiling her driving. Miss Parrish, who was paired with Mrs. Wells, did not return a card. The scores follow:

Monday he met Victor Sorchan, and they came out all even in an eighteen-hole bout. This morning Cutting and Brooks met for the first time and linished even. They arranged an impromptu match for this afternoon, and Cutting lost to Brooks by 4 up and 3 to play. The 'Varsity Crews of Harvard and Pennsyl-

POUGHEEPSIE, June 15 .- There are evidences on every hand of the general interest aroused In the shop windows and on the promenades there is a lavish display of all the college colors. The local feeling is for Cornell in the first race and Pennsylvania in the second. Among the crews now on the Hudson Columbia and Penn-sylvania both shout for Cornell. The Ithacans are expected here to-morrow afternoon. The talk about Harvard's good form means nothing until her rivals are seen in the same water, Courtney may have something up his sleeve, and nobody here would be surprised if, after his crew are seen on the Hudson, Crimson stock took a tumble.

The Harvard 'varsity eight did not get on the water until noon to-day. They used the Davy boat, which is Lehmann's selection for the race He means to have it fit the crew in every detail, and changes will be made until everything works and changes will be made until everything works a moothly. The freshmen took a spin about 9 o'clock this morning, with Ned Storrow as coach. In the afternoon they rowed up the river pass Columbia's quarters, going about three miles each way. At 6 o'clock the 'warsity eight took their second row—a mile on time. The distance was covered in less than five minutes. The cosch was so much pleased at the showing of his men that he stopped them in their practice and remarked:

Boys, this is the best you have rowed in remarked:

"Boys, this is the best you have rowed in three weeks."

It was announced at Harvard's quarters to-day that Lehmann will sail for England on June 30, and will be accompanied by Capt. Goodrich and several others of the crew. The party will go to Henley to see the races.

Columbia is having some hard luck through illness and the enforced idleness of several oarsmen because of sore hands and feet. Encouraging progress is being made, however, in the face of obstacles, and a good showing may be looked for when the blue and white is called to the starting line.

The 'varsity crew went out at 11 o'clock. Mc-Kay had a sore finger and was unable to row. The scat at 4 was filled by Machen. The Wallace boat was used. The crew received a thorough drill in team work. The freshmen put in time in pair oars. This afternoon the 'varsity and freshmen rowed down the river, pulling a thirty-four stroke. They were followed by Coach Cowles in the Daisy. Both crews sprinted two miles and a half at racing speed. After they had gone about a mile they pussed the Harvard freshman crew coming up. Still further down Columbia met the Pennsylvania 'varsity eight. After rowing five miles Columbia's crews returned to the boathouse.

Ellis Ward sent the Pennsylvania's first 'varsity eight over the full course for a time row to-day, for the first time since the men began practising on the Hudson. As the flood tide was flowing, the test was made up stream. The time is reported to have been quite fast, considering the conditions, and Ward told the boys he was flowing, the test was made up stream. At 50 clock this afternoon the first 'varsity eight went up to the start and gob off at a stiff page. The freshmen were beaten a length.

GALES FERRY, June 15 .- The Yale oarsmen are favored with weather resembling that of spring instead of summer and the cool temperature is greatly appreciated. At an early hour the freshmen were put through the pair-oar work in front of the boathouse, as on Tuesday morning, and later their shell was launched.

During the morning the 'varsity crew was undergoing examinations, but were in their shell about the same time as their younger brothers. The two crews were lined up in front of the Inc two crews were that up in front of the launch and Bob Cook started them down the river. The freshmen evidently had improved by their preliminary work, for they caught the water simultaneously, pluckly kept alongside their opponents and were three seconds ahead of them when they ceased rowing at the half mile work.

After a short rest the crews repeated the brush, and the freshmen were again victorious, the latter time increasing their lead to about five seconds. The water was in fair condition during the entire day. Both crews were out again this evening working their way down stream as far as the naval station, where, as the spectators on the pier there explained it. "Both Cook had 'em pull a few strokes and then delivered a red-hot lecture through a fog-horn."
